

Design Teams Research Station Questions for Consideration

1. What practices do we have in place to ensure that all voices in the district are being heard?
2. How do we identify the right people to serve on our design teams while still promoting an open and safe environment?
3. How do we differentiate between a typical task-oriented committee and a group of individuals who are committed to thinking strategically about the direction of our organization?
4. How do we ensure that ideas for changes are being initiated and that these ideas are being actualized systemically?
5. What are we consistently doing to build the capacity of those in our learning organization to ensure that we are engagement-centered?